What management should know

- Jan–May averaged $2,708 per line-day; Jun–Oct dropped to $2,421 (−$287).
- Efficiency is 10.8 points under standard — each point is worth about $335,948 of CM at today's mix.
- ZARA + OJG = 58% of CM. Our accounts TARGET + KMART = $1.98M (8.5%).

CM earned per month

US$ earned from sewing · October is to 24 Oct only

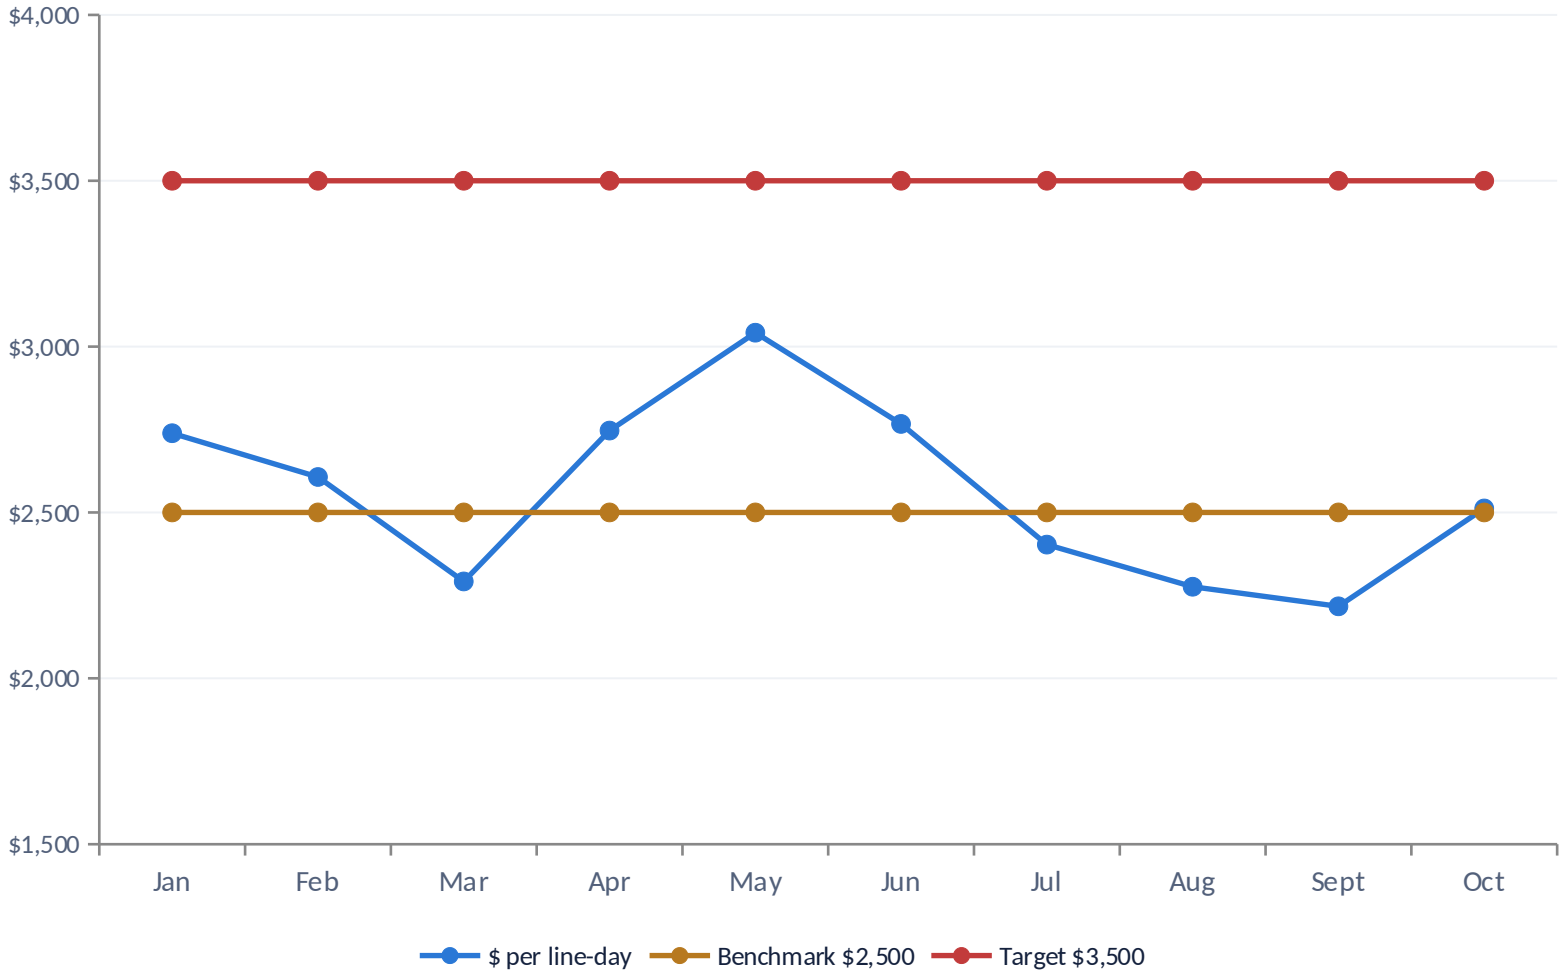

Reading the chart

- Highest: Jan $3.02M (1,102 line-days).
- Lowest full month: Mar $1.66M.
- Monthly CM depends on line-days run and on CM per line-day — the next slide separates the two.
- Oct $1.87M covers 1–24 Oct only.

Earned per line-day has slipped since May

US$ per line-day by month vs the $2,500 benchmark and the $3,500 line target

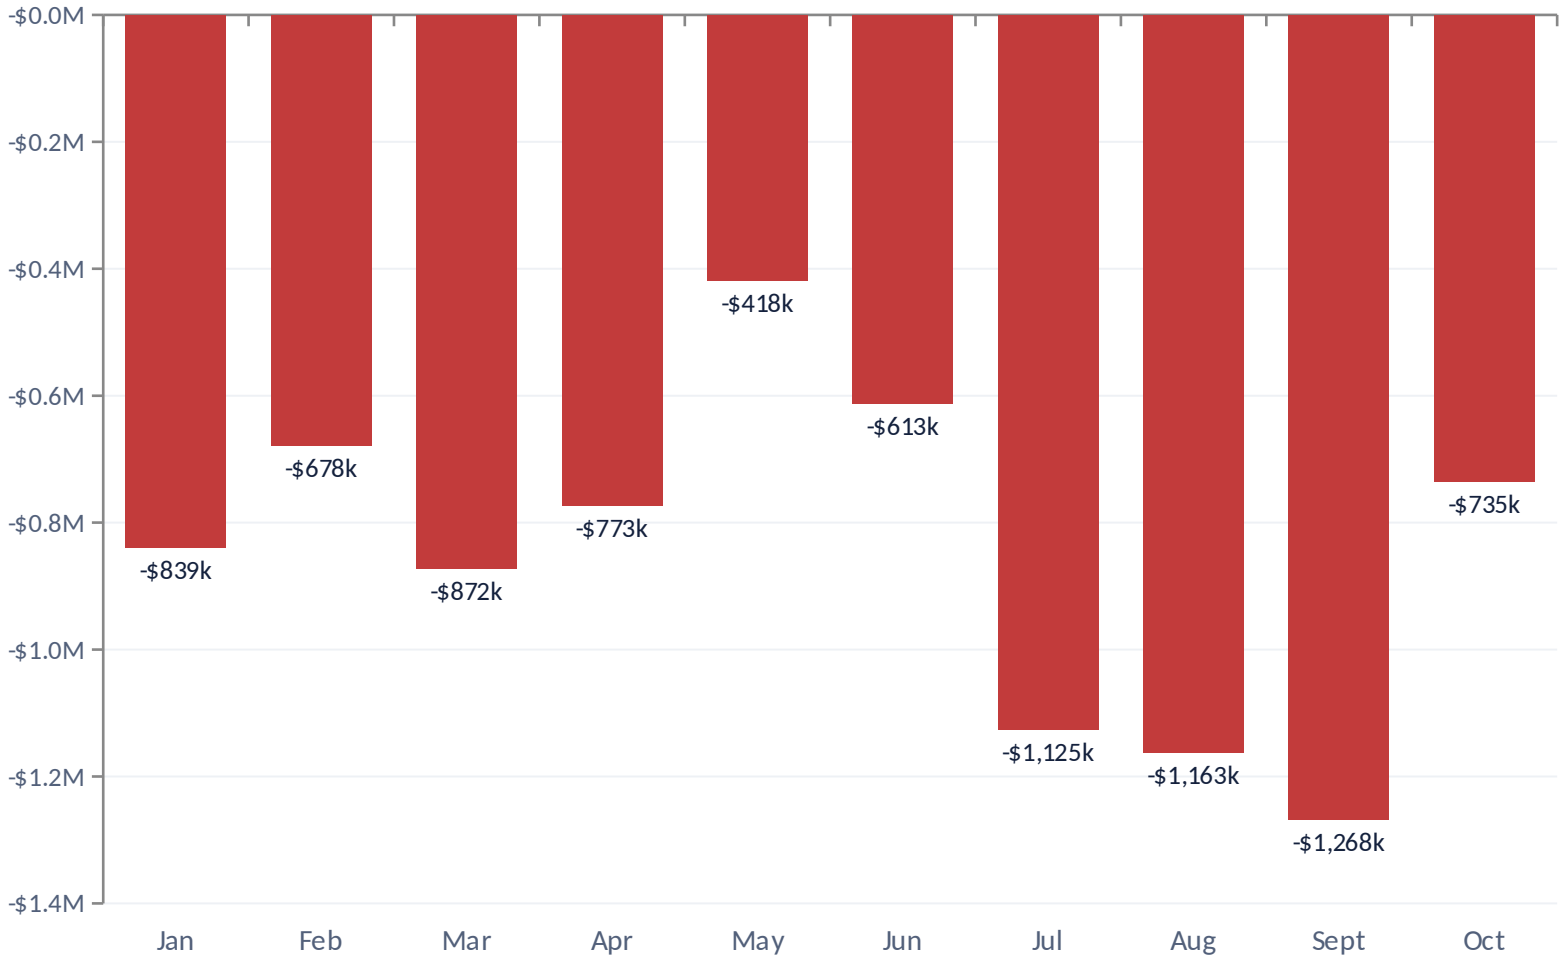

Reading the chart

- Peak May: $3,042 per line-day.
- Below $2,500 in 4 month(s): Mar, Jul, Aug, Sept.
- No month reached the $3,500 target.
- Efficiency fell from 76.6% (Jan) to 64.4% (Oct) over the same period.

Monthly gap to the $3,500 line target

Earned − $3,500 × line-days · every month is short

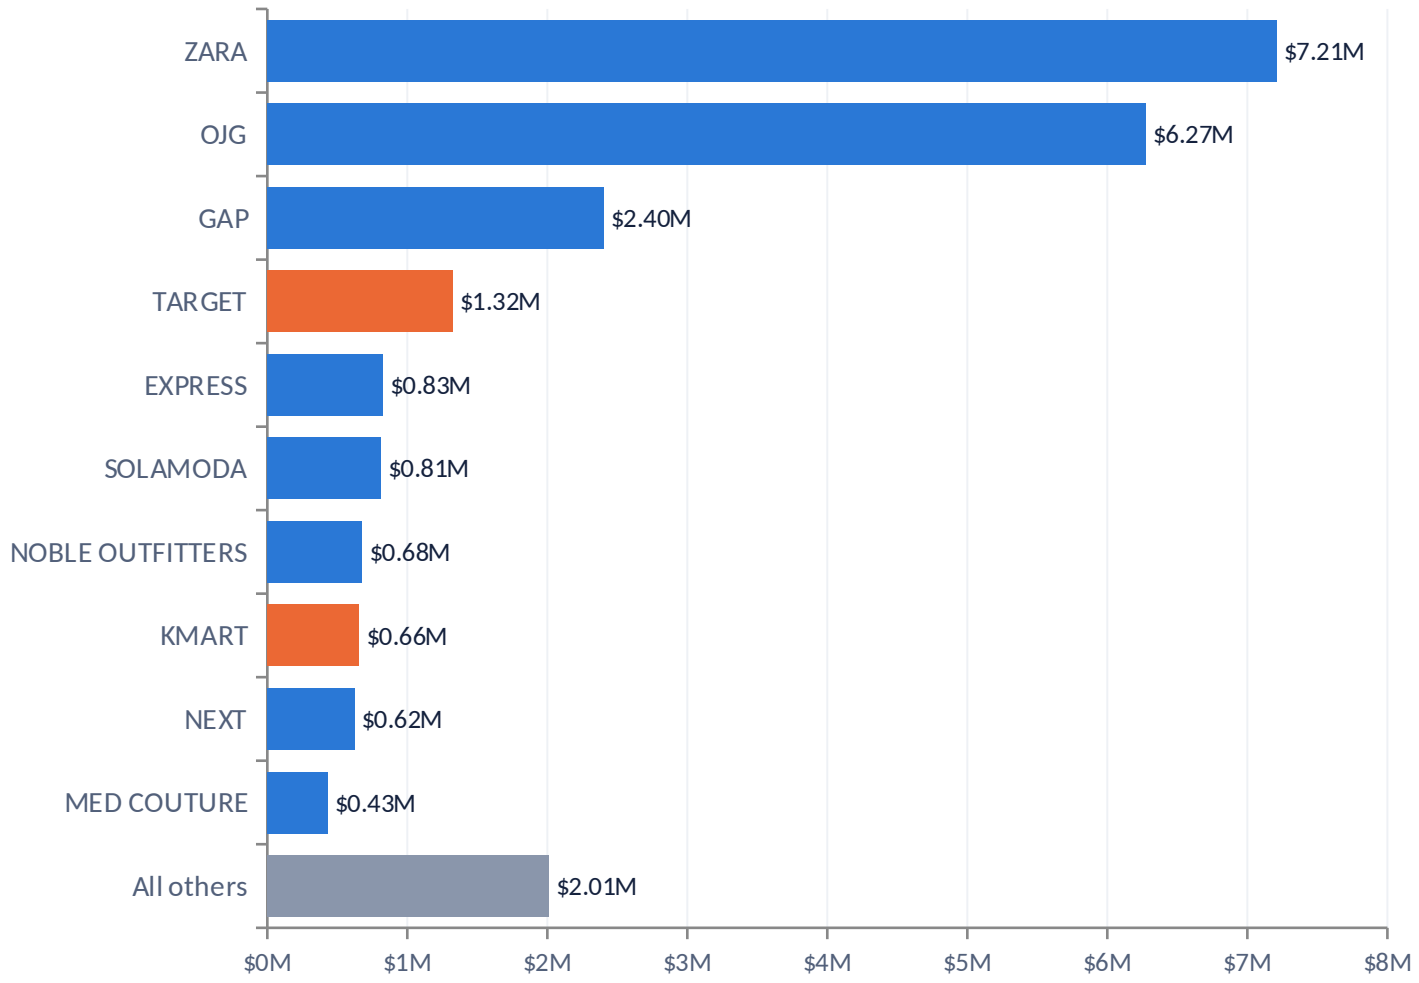

Reading the chart

- Total gap −$8.48M on 9,066 line-days.
- Largest gaps: Sept −$1.27M, Aug −$1.16M, Jul −$1.13M.
- The gap widened from Jul as $/line-day fell while line-days stayed high.
- $3,500 is the line target used in the Revenue file ("TARGET −$3500US").

Points for discussion

From the numbers above — for management decision

1

Efficiency recovery

Factory 69.2% vs 80% standard. Each point ≈ $335,948 CM. Fell from 76.6% in Jan to 64.4% in Oct.

2

Low-yield buyers

Below $2,000 per line-day with ≥ 100 line-days: MED COUTURE $1,769, CARREFOUR $1,777. Review price / CM per minute or line allocation.

3

Our accounts

TARGET $2,199 and KMART $2,212 per line-day — both under $2,500; efficiency 66.6% / 68.5%.

4

Weak lines

Lowest: Line 23 (U2) $1,728, Line 28 (U2) $2,123, Line 10 (U1) $2,152.

5

Target setting

Factory average $2,564 is $936 below the $3,500 line target; confirm whether $3,500 stays the target for Q4.
